Built for people who just want to learn.

Read a chart in 60 seconds

Build the instinct to spot what a chart is really telling you.

Spreadsheets that scale

Move past basic formulas into the tools analysts actually rely on.

Decisions, not just dashboards

Every lesson connects the numbers back to a real decision.

[FAQ]

Honest answers to the small stuff.

Do I need a maths background?

No — lessons are built for people who want to use data, not derive statistics from scratch.

What tools are covered?

Spreadsheets and everyday dashboard tools, with a focus on judgement over software.

Is this useful outside of a data job?

Very — most roles today involve reading a dashboard or a report at some point.

Will there be more advanced content later?

Yes, the track grows from literacy basics into deeper analysis over time.
