Built for people who just want to learn.

Composition first

The habits that improve every photo, regardless of what camera you own.

Light, explained simply

Understand light without wading through a manual full of jargon.

From phone to full manual

Start with what is in your pocket, grow into manual settings when ready.

[FAQ]

Honest answers to the small stuff.

Do I need a proper camera?

No — most lessons work just as well on a phone camera, and manual settings come later.

What kind of photography is covered?

Composition, light and everyday shooting — the fundamentals behind every genre.

Will I learn photo editing too?

Editing lessons are part of the track, alongside the in-camera fundamentals.

How quickly will I see improvement?

Most people notice a difference in their framing after just one or two lessons.
